

Teaching Bellydance:

How to create curriculum to support your student's progress

Ways to improve the effectiveness of your instructional strategies and ongoing curriculum, as a dance teacher.

Includes notes and interviews on the teaching methodology of Farida Fahmy and Mahmoud Reda

By Keti Sharif

-Sample-

Teaching Bellydance:

How to create curriculum to support your student's progress

E-book by Keti Sharif © www.ketisharif.com

Please note that this E-Book is for personal use only and is not authorized to be reproduced or sold in any form

Table of contents

Page	Content
4.	Introduction
5.	The Benefits of Creating Curriculum
6.	Teaching – Casual versus Curriculum
7.	How Curriculum benefits Students
9.	How Curriculum benefits Teachers
10.	Types of Curriculum
12.	Modes of Delivering Overt Curriculum
13.	A. Traditional or Classical Curriculum
14.	B. Thematic Learning Curriculum
15.	C. Programmed or Correspondence Curriculum
16.	D. Technological Learning Curriculum
17.	The Process of Structured Teaching
18.	The Methodology of Mahmoud Reda
20.	Farida Fahmy on Teaching Dance
21.	Farida Fahmy's tips for Bellydance Teachers

23. Worldwide Success of Tribal Styles
24. Sahra Saeeda's Ethnology Curriculum
25. My Experience with A-Z Bellydance
26. Developing your own Curriculum
28. Four Stages of Learning Dance Skills
29. Teaching for Various Learning Styles
30. Student Goals and Progress
31. Providing Feedback
32. Sample: Fundamental Coded Curriculum
33. Sample: 3 Month Course Curriculum
34. Sample: 6 Week Course Curriculum
36. Sample: Choreographic Layout
37. Sample: Terminology
38. Sample: Glossary of Movement
39. Project - The Developmental Process
39.
 1. What are your talents and skills – bellydance or work?
40.
 2. What are your bellydance interests?
 3. What is your preferred mode of delivery?
41.
 4. What do you want to teach and offer your students?
 5. How can you track a student's progress?
42.
 6. How can you create the space for students to explore their own creativity and learning style?
43. Your Notes on creating curriculum

- - - End of sample - - -